Report

A 200 and 100m Field Class Practice was run last Saturday the 9th of March where the members had a great chance to get in that always much needed practice at 200m seated and 100m standing.

I have banged on about the “much needed” practice for some time now and especially at these distances and positions. Why? Because in the short years I’ve been involved with target shooting it is always these positions and discipline that is less practiced or wanted to be practiced.

The trend of not shooting from an unrested position or from the simple but very effective method of a sling, is diminishing and has crept into all our game bags when it comes to shooting.

How many times have you had a great shot chance in the bush but missed because you didn’t trust yourself to produce a clean shot standing and tried to rush to the nearest structure for support as your target disappeared?

How many times have you had a great shot chance but after adopting a prone position for stability found yourself with a scope full of grass and no clear shot anymore? You may have been able to adopt a strong seated position with the help of your sling and taken that shot confidently.

Or how many times have you been on the mound at a competition shoot and thought, “I could have done with a bit more practice standing”.... I have.

Unfortunately, and it is sad to say that this trend has become very common for shooters to want to shoot off a rest or supportive device but I am very happy to say that a large percentage of members at the TPVRC are more than happy and are acceptive to the chance to try and expand their skills in shooting by shooting in the bread and butter positions of standing unsupported and seated or kneeling.

The members didn’t waste the chance last Saturday to get that practice with some lining up for a second go if there was a spare target. Top stuff. The TPVRC committee encourages all members that are able, to adhere to the program of the afternoon and to test themselves in their shooting where possible.

This Saturday the 16th of March has a 300m Standard service match on the program. Shooting will be prone, sling support only with no specialized aids allowed. Back to basics service shooting. This is your chance to get slung up off the elbows and practice. Deliberate, rapid and snap fire, iron and optical sights.

Range open from 12.30pm with the practice to get under way shortly after. Standard range fees will apply.
